TOWER AND THE CLOCK

By the time you read this the stonemason work will have finished and the Tower will be ready to stand the test of time once again. The new mortar will weather and blend over the next few years and soon all trace of the repairs will disappear. The clock faces have been painted royal blue and we tried three different types of gold paint before we determined the best solution both for longevity and appearance would be gold leaf. This incremental cost has been met by a generous donation. The internal repairs are also underway and soon everything will be back to normal. Assuming everything goes to plan once the Structural Engineer has made a final inspection then the scaffolding should be removed before Remembrance Sunday.

On the financial side we have received grants from Suffolk Heritage Church Trust, Allchurches Trust and National Churches Trust alongside a legacy and donations. We have made two stage payments and commenced the VAT recovery process.

TUESDAY CLUB

At the October meeting we welcomed Frances Moore from Lindsey, her talk for the evening was “Nursing in the Middle East”

In the early 1960's her husband was working in the Middle East. It was here that they needed a doctor and as Frances had trained as a nurse he put her name forward for the job. That was how it all began. She left her home in Suffolk and with her two small children flew to Aden then on to Bahan where they were to live. Accommodation was the top floor of a mud hut with animals living below. It seemed a world away from Suffolk but they soon adapted to a completely different life style and the children settled in well. She was given a vehicle to enable her to get around to carry out her work in clinics and remote places, treating people with a number of illnesses. She said one day you could be delivering a baby, the next stitching up a camel. Work was a challenge but she enjoyed it and through her husbands work met some interesting people. After Yemen they travelled to many other Middle Eastern countries where she was able to carry on with her work. A very interesting talk.

Competition for “A get well card” was won by Molly Robinson. Next meeting is on 6th November when Canon Roy Tricker will give an illustrated talk on “A love affair with churches”. Canon Tricker is a very knowledgeable and entertaining speaker so please come along. Village Hall 7.30pm. £1 per person. Refreshments available.

Competition is for “A war related item”.

FRANEY, RAND AND PEST HOUSE CHARITIES

Several years ago, Doctor Franey of Hadleigh founded a Cottage hospital in Hadleigh and raised funds by public subscription to help maintain it. The hospital was closed when the National Health Service came in, but it's property and funds remained in private hands and the Charity Commission used these assets to found a Charity named after Doctor Franey.

The trustees of the Charity, who are all local people, have power to give money to people in need living in the parishes of Hadleigh, Aldham, Kersey, Layham, Semer, Shelley and Whatfield to enable them to obtain food, fuel, medical aid and such comforts. The Charity can also help the infirm, the sick or the convalescent and those in need of a rest or change of air to meet the costs of holidays. But, in every case the trustees must be able to satisfy themselves that the people whom they benefit are needy as well as deserving.

A meeting of the trustees will be held shortly and people wishing to apply for help are asked to write to Mrs M Jeffrey, Clerk to the Trustees at 1 Cottesford Close, Hadleigh, IP7 5JA.

Rachael Rogers, Representative Trustee for Kersey.

ST MARY'S CHURCH

Remembrance and Tradition

I have a hero, I discovered him whilst sitting in a dusty library on a hot summer's day when I was writing a long essay for my second year at University. I won't spoil my sermon by talking about him now; but on a day when I would ordinarily have invented excuses to be outside on the college lawn having a rollie, I stuck at the job of reading the scattered fragments of his life story from various books - Theodore Bayley Hardy was one of the most extraordinary figures of the first world war and someone I have tried in my own inadequate way, to try and copy ever since.

I don't have a relative to remember on the 11th, I don't have a village that I grew up in to remember its fallen; but in Kersey we have names that are familiar because villagers know the families they are from. It's why those Silent Tommies in Church are so evocative. Those men and women who fell in the two great wars should have left daughters and sons, granddaughters and grandsons; they should have been working at Kersey Mill or the local farms; so much wasted youth, so much blood spilled.

We are going to gather at church on Sunday the 11th November to say they are not forgotten. We who have inherited the peace bought with their lives will not go about our day without paying tribute to the lost sons and daughters of a generation. Those are our boys, from our village, their names will be read out and we will hear them.

Tradition

Well all that put me in mind of the nature of tradition, we only do what we do on the 11th because our grandparents and parents taught us to value the tradition of doing so.

Tradition is a very fine and wonderful thing, cities can quickly lose it without a stable population; but in Kersey we know a thing or two about tradition and I'm very pleased that one of our monthly services is going to follow it. After some nudging by villagers we've reinstated a monthly Book of Common Prayer service - on the first Sunday of the month of course. Everything as it should be, a simple traditional service of Holy Communion, like you and I had as children. There is much that is modern which is exciting and refreshing but there is a valued and respected place for the traditional as well.

One last thing...

On the evening of the 10th of November something will be happening to the church at exactly 7pm. I don't know if it will work but you should be able to see it from most of the village; let me know the next day if it did because I won't be able to tell from my vantage point on the hill...

All the best,

Rev Jackson.

NEWS FROM KERSEY SCHOOL

Squirrels (Reception):

Squirrels class have been getting used to the rules and routines in their class, enjoying a range of activities all about themselves and who they are.

Next term they will be learning all about celebrations and festivals and will be preparing for our nativity in December.

Hedgehogs (Years 1 and 2):

Hedgehogs have had fun this half term learning about food and how to eat healthily, including making their own fruit salads which they all enjoyed! We have also been learning about Haiku's and writing our own Haiku's to describe the fruit we used for our fruit salad.

Squirrels and Hedgehogs would like to invite the village of Kersey to come and see our dress rehearsal for our Nativity production on Monday 10th December at St Mary's Church, Kersey. More details to follow.

Badgers (Years 3 and 4):

What a busy start to the Autumn term we have had in Badgers Class! To finish off our Tudor topic on Wednesday we are having a Tudor day filled with music, dancing and real Tudor food. In RE we have been thinking about how Jesus is a Saviour for Christians around the world, Christmas definitely came early as we have made Christmas Cards and created our own Nativity characters. In Literacy we transformed ourselves into Henry the 8th to write our own letter to Anne of Cleves to persuade her to come to England to marry Henry. Thankfully there wasn't too much talk about chopping her head off!!!

Owls (Years 5 and 6):

Owls class have completed their Bikeability certificates and are all now safe on the roads; they thoroughly enjoyed themselves despite cycling up and down the Kersey street to practise! We are continuing our topic of Ancient Greeks; we have learned more about Greek gods and goddesses as well as Greek houses and temples.

If you would like to know more about Kersey school or would like to arrange a visit please ring the office on 01473 823397, email: admin@kersey.suffolk.sch.uk or visit our website: www.kersey.suffolk.sch.uk

FARMING NOTES - November 2018

Arable:

Autumn cereal sowing was completed by 12 October, as hoped. It has all been rolled to compact the seedbed and improve the 'seed to soil contact' which aids germination. Pre-emergence weed control has also been finished, and the crops have emerged well so we can now see that our new employee, Ryan Steer, has done a good job! The Oil Seed Rape (OSR) has continued to flourish in the good conditions this autumn.

Base fertiliser (phosphate, potash, magnesium and salt) has been applied to land intended for the 2019 sugar beet crop and this is currently being ploughed as the first preparation for a good seedbed next March.

Livestock:

Now that the cows and their spring born calves have eaten most of the abundant grass which grew in the latter part of the summer it is time to house them. The first 20 cows were weaned (split from their calves) in early October. More recently, the main group of 35 cows have been housed and their calves separated. It takes just a few days for them to adjust to housing and their winter rations. Feed for the cows will be straw and silage together with malt nuts (a high protein concentrate feed) and minerals. Calves are fed malt nuts and fodder beet together with a mineral bucket, they also have access to straw or silage because enough roughage in their diet is important.

We have recently agreed the sale of 4 more young British Blue bulls to the breeding company Cogent. Before movement the bulls have to pass several veterinary health checks and blood tests. All being well, eventually the bulls will go to stud and produce semen for use on dairy cows to produce meaty crossbred calves. This will bring the total number of Kersey British Blue bulls sold to Cogent in recent years to 16.

The last of this season's Suffolk breeding rams were taken to a sale at Ashford in Kent recently. There is a fair degree of uncertainty and a definite lack of confidence in the breeding sheep trade at the moment; this is as a result of the current shambles which they call Brexit! However, we were pleased to sell all 5 of the rams reasonably well and come home with an empty trailer.

36 ewe lambs are enjoying the crop of stubble turnips on the field near the play area. This crop has grown so well that more ewes will be joining them soon to make best use of it. The flush of the two Blue Texel ewes went ahead; 7 fertile embryos were retrieved and implanted into crossbred recipient ewes and will hopefully result in a rapid expansion of the flock in March.
